Russian "Reds" Are Trapped and Mowed Down by Machine Guns.

YANKS CONCEALED IN "FORT"

Americans Allow Enemy Column to Approach Wire Entanglements and Then Annihilate Entire Force.

Archangel, March 18.—The futile attack which the bolshevik delivered Saturday on the allied and American forces comprised the first serious attempt to cut the line of communication between the Dvina and Vaga columns. The attempt was not only frustrated but the bolshevik forces suffered a severe defeat and sustained heavy losses.

Moving from the Kadish-Turevo sector, the First Battalion of the Sixth Soviet regiment, 500 strong, attacked at 1.45 o'clock in the afternoon the allied positions in the village of Gorka, which is 25 miles north of Berezansk, at the junction of the Vaga and the Dvina.

The American-Russian detachment at Gorka was well entrenched, and it decisively repulsed the enemy, capturing five prisoners and five machine guns during the fighting. After the attack the bodies of 57 bolsheviks were found. The allied forces suffered only one casualty—a man wounded.

The Vaga sector in the vicinity of Klisa is quiet, as are the other fronts. American officers who returned from the Vaga front declared that the bolsheviks sustained exceedingly heavy losses last week. They related one particular instance of such losses to the correspondent. It occurred after the enemy had razed with artillery fire nearly all the blockhouses in Vistavka.

All the defensive troops withdrew with the exception of a squad of Americans, who were stationed in a purely defensive blockhouse with machine guns. The enemy scouts advanced and were permitted to cut the barbed wire entanglements. On doing this they shouted back to their comrades that the village had been annihilated.

When the first column of the bolsheviks walked unsuspectingly up to the entanglements the Americans inside the blockhouse turned their machine guns loose and mowed down the entire enemy party. After this the defensive forces went back into Vistavka.

Of the total of 25 Americans listed as missing since the beginning of hostilities on this front it has been reported that ten are prisoners in the bolshevik hands. This information was given by an American Red Cross field worker who questioned bolshevik deserters on the Vaga front.

London, March 19.—Special dispatches from Berlin report that the suppression of the recent Spartacist outbreak there has shown that a military and monarchist reaction is growing and overshadowing the new government.

The Berlin correspondent of the Mail, who on February 27, sent a dispatch outlining plans for a monarchist uprising in Germany, has arrived in London, having left Berlin on March 14, after a residence there of three months. He reiterates the statements made in the dispatch, saying that President Ebert, Chancellor Scheide mann and Minister of War Noske are merely puppets. He declares that for the purpose of retaining power they have allowed members of the military caste to reappear as organizers of the new republican armies.

Similar testimony is given by other correspondents in telegraphing from Berlin, stating that the capture of the suburb of Lichtenberg has been intentionally prolonged with a view to exterminating the Spartacists, whose treatment at the hands of government troops is said to be "surprisingly humane." While alleged atrocities are attributed to the military forces, details of which have been given are doubted or denied.

BEER RULING IS UP TO PALMER

Question Raised by Root Opinion Goes to Attorney General.

NOT SURE WHAT BEER IS

Revenue Chiefs at Washington Hold Many Conferences Over Vexing Problem—Don't Know What to Do With Brewers.

Washington, March 19.—Answer to the question of when beer is legally brewed and whether it may contain 2 1/2 per cent alcohol without being officially considered intoxicating, was sought by internal revenue bureau officials in existing statutes, court decisions and administrative regulations, but with no definite conclusion.

Pending a decision by the legal division of the bureau and an opinion by Attorney General Palmer, Commissioner Roper declined to say what he would do in case New York brewers carry out their announced intention of "resuming manufacture and sale of beer containing 2 1/2 per cent alcohol under President Wilson's recent order permitting the making of 'near beer'."

Hold Many Conferences. Internal revenue bureau officials held a number of conferences. The bureau's legal experts argued that all precedents of acts of congress and of revenue bureau practices point to the rule that if beer contains one-half of 1 per cent or more alcohol it is intoxicating and is taxable as real beer. Drinks to be "soft," "nonintoxicating" and "nonalcoholic" must contain less than one-half of 1 per cent alcohol, they said.

Therefore, it was argued that the president's order of last September 16 forbade the use of grain or other food products in making beer with one-half per cent or more of alcohol.

Commissioner Roper, however, decided to fortify himself fully and arranged to call on the department of justice for an opinion.

Barred After May 1. In any event, officials said, the manufacture of beer with more than one-half per cent alcohol is prohibited after May 1 under the food conservation provision of the act of November 21, 1918. It was understood that New York brewers, however, did not agree with this view.

Various provisions of recent revenue acts were cited by bureau officials in support of the contention that one-half per cent is the maximum for non-intoxicating beverages. The revenue act of 1917 provided a tax of $1.50 a barrel on beer and other fermented malt liquors "containing one-half per cent or more of alcohol." It also laid a special tax on soft drinks, including "fermented liquors containing less than one-half per cent of alcohol."

Anti-Saloon league leaders are depending upon the specific mention of beer and wine in the wartime prohibition act to make it unnecessary to prove that beer is intoxicating in order to prevent its sale after July 1.

Assaults Critic of Ex-Kaiser

Herr Reinhardt assailed Adolf Hoffmann, the minister of education, for terming former Emperor William a deserter.

"Any other decision which the Kaiser could have made on that 9th day of November," said the war minister, "must necessarily have led to further sanguinary fighting and to further sacrifices, whether in battle against the enemy or in civil war, in order to prevent this—in other words, through pure humanitarian and patriotic feelings—the Kaiser went to Holland."

Paul Hirsch, the minister president, added his warning to the independent socialist press that it depended on whether there must be a renewal of Minister Noske's decree.

"So long as it is a matter of an intellectual movement by the Spartacists," Herr Hirsch declared, "the government will meet this with intellectual weapons, but crude force will be met with force."

REINHARDT DEFENDS POLICY

Prussian War Minister Declares Government Not Brutal in Dealing With Anarchists—Scores Critics of Ex-Kaiser—Greeted With Howls.

Berlin, March 19.—The diet at Munich was opened with a strong military display, according to a Munich dispatch. All entrances were strongly guarded and machine guns were pointed on the roof. Militia and police were distributed throughout the house. Dozens of newspaper men were searched for arms. No one was allowed in the galleries except the press.

Colonel Reinhardt, the Prussian war minister, defended the government troops in a speech in the diet against the charges of brutality in the Berlin rioting. He declared the summary execution order of Gustave Noske, the minister of defense, directed at rebels with arms in their hands, was required by the situation.

Interrupted by Howls

Colonel Reinhardt was continually interrupted by howls and vitriolic remarks by the independent socialists. Answering the allegations of the independent socialists and communists that they intended the general strike to be a prelude to the use of force, Colonel Reinhardt said:

"How do such vast quantities of weapons happen to come into the hands of the criminal insurrectionists? How do even cannon get into the hands of so-called innocent persons, and how is it that those weapons are regularly supplied with ammunition?"

Colonel Reinhardt recalled the repeated orders of the government for the surrender of all weapons in unauthorized hands, and he declared that notwithstanding these orders the government troops found on Sunday in the single small suburb of Adlershof 2,321 machine guns, 475,000 cartridges, bayonets and 475,000 cartridges.

War minister said that the government troops of a single division had lost 20 officers and 60 men up to Thursday, and he charged that some of these had been tortured by the insurgents.

Here he smashed the pulpit, church pews, stained glass windows, and tore the pulpit Bible and hymn books to shreds until five policemen subdued him.

He said he was depressed because his sweetheart had jilted him.

UNCLE SAM'S PROMISE TO PAY BACKED BY NATION

When Farmer Jones wants to borrow money he gives a mortgage. But Uncle Sam has a system that beats everything. When the United States wants to obtain money for federal purposes Congress passes a law fixing a specific method of raising the funds. Congress represents the people. What Congress does is binding on the people. And when the people as a Nation, agree by law to borrow money from themselves as individual citizens, it goes without saying that they are sure of being repaid for the last cent. They are sure, and do, make the laws that insure repayment, interest charges, and everything else needed for their security. That is why Uncle Sam gives no mortgages.

Uncle Sam's "Promise to pay" is better than any mortgage. Uncle Sam's "Promise to pay" has the backing of the Nation and is protected by all the National wealth, revenue income, taxing power, borrowing power, control of the force of the government and the people.

THE VICTORY LIBERTY LOAN has behind it something better than a mortgage on the "32" of Sec. 38 of the Constitution. It has the wealth produced from the two oceans from Canada to Mexico. That wealth ranges from fifty billion to perhaps fifty billion dollars annually. The fifty billion dollar value of the property producing that wealth each year is generally estimated at two hundred and fifty billion dollars. The probability it is a great deal more than that.

The vital thing is that the annual wealth of the country is at least forty times the amount needed to pay the interest and sinking fund charges on the government's borrowings.

There is a great difference between the government's borrowing and borrowing by any state, city or corporation. The United States of America has supreme sovereignty. A state of the union has only limited powers. A county or city has powers of a still more limited range. Hence the buyer of any U. S. obligation has the highest possible degree of security. If the law authorizing the issuance of the loan was passed by Congress, in legal form, by lawful procedure, within the powers granted by the constitution, and went into force with the President's signature, there is nothing on earth which can impair the validity of that loan, or prevent repayment of the borrowed capital with interest. Nothing but the collapse of the nation itself. And even then the successor nation would have to assume the obligation or give up all hope of borrowing any more money.

On the other hand, a corporation might borrow under the legal conditions, and give a mortgage on all its property, and the something uncertain might happen to render the mortgaged property less valuable and make the repayment of the borrowed money difficult or impossible. The corporation has power to levy taxes enough to pay all the debts and borrowings. A corporation has to depend on its profitable business operations for money to repay what it borrows.

The man or woman who subscribes for the VICTORY LIBERTY LOAN has no worries about "the state of the Union." "GOD WE TRUST" is the legend on almost every coin you have. That is the best possible motto for everybody. Next to that should come this one: "I trust the U. S. Government: Victory Liberty Bonds for me."

RHINELANDER PAPER SAYS TRIPOLI IS A BUSY PLACE

Rhinelander, New North. The other day a New North representative went to Tripoli and found one of the busiest little towns in this vicinity. As far as one can see from the upper story of the mill are legs. This town has over twelve million feet of logs heaped up there in different directions, and the men are working to make it four million. This is the work of A. J. Wilson of this city. The mill is being overhauled and enlarged to take care of these large cuts. We were told that the Bissell Lumber Co., the new owners, take care of the many families new homes are rapidly being built and more will be started in May. A new office is being constructed to take care of the increased clerical force now required for the great volume of business. If an old resident of Rhinelander were blindfolded and taken to this busy place and then the handkerchief removed, he might think he was in this city in olden days, with A. J. Wilson, millwright, and yard foreman, Wm. Haviland, Rhinelander superintendent, Martin Lally, scaler and general assistant. John Didier of the Rhinelander Iron Works has been there many weeks overseeing the heating of the new store and iron construction at the mill. In fact, a large number of the workmen there are citizens of Rhinelander. If you wish to see a live town stop off at Tripoli.

O'CAIN SAYS "Y" HAD BIG TASK IN FRANCE

Stating that the "Y. M. C. A." next to the army and its immediate auxiliary, had the greatest task to handle in France, and that the criticism which has reached this country was chiefly through the fact that the soldiers were working under "Y" secretaries, is back at his home in this city.

"Of all the work overseas the Y. M. C. A. put over the biggest next to the army," he stated. "The more or less cause for complaint in minor instances. The job of the Y was of the same nature, successful in the main with some cause for complaint. Most of this cause for complaint was due to the fact that the general idea was that the goods handled thru our canteens was to be given away to the boys. The revenue income, taxing power, borrowing power, control of the force of the government and the people."

THE VICTORY LIBERTY LOAN has behind it something better than a mortgage on the "32" of Sec. 38 of the Constitution. It has the wealth produced from the two oceans from Canada to Mexico. ## CANT PAY DAMAGES ON INSURED POSTAL PARCELS

Notice which has been received by Postmaster Nash of this city states that the failure of Congress to pass the Third Deficiency Appropriation Bill means that the post office department has no fund to pay damages which occur to insured parcels going through the mails. Unless a special session passes an appropriation of this sort it will mean that damages of this sort will have to be ignored as there will be no money to pay them. The local post office usually have about two hundred and fifty claims for damages on parcels sent each year, and of this number about one hundred are generally just claims and are paid. The amounts paid vary but the total is usually in the neighborhood of $400. The uninsured large number of parcels sent to soldiers in this country and abroad has increased this some and the damages claimed for the past year will probably run quite a little higher than they have formerly.

WILL CHAMBERS' NEPHEW WAS GERMAN PRISONER

Lieut. Stuart M. Black, a nephew of Will Chambers of this city, whose home is in Chicago but who has lived at Detroit for several years past and who has visited Mr. Chambers in this city, has recently been given his freedom from a German prison. Lieut. Black had some very exciting and interesting experiences while there. Black was in the Canadian air service.

Will C. Chambers in the Detroit Free Press tells the following in a long article he has written on Lieut. Black's experience:

"On June 31, 1918 Black was flying up the Rhine valley. Below him with wide intervals were the towns of Wehr and Mannheim. 15,000 feet beneath was layer piled upon layer of haze and gray mist. There was nothing but the vibrant thrum of the engine—nothing but that and a German circus of forty-four machines heading down on nine British planes.

"Black was at the levers of a De Havilland with an observer in back of him when an enemy Fokker let go a burst of machine gun bullets that hit their mark. The left wing of the British doubled up. The rudder began to rise up.

"The earth seemed to rise up. Black had a piece of shell in his head, his observer was also wounded. Knifing down on top of a German plane, Black made sure that the fall was not a ruse. A spray of lead from his forward gun failed to scathe the flyers and they landed on the hill with a crash.

Lieutenant Black had sufficient strength to use his Lewis machine gun of control with his pilot dead. The British fliers searched their pockets but couldn't find one. A German farmer approached and Black pulled a cigarette from his pocket.

"Have you a light, Boche," he asked the newcomer. He had. The farmer produced one and swift action followed. His hostile visitors in a minute had smashed a gasoline pipe and the German matches set fire to the plane. Five minutes later it was tinder. It would never be of use to the Fatherland.

A hasty court martial decided that for the last minute and fatal attack on the Fokker both Black and his companion would have to spend a year and a half in civil prison for the war.

"The Commandant at Holzminden where we were confined was Capt. Niemeyer, whom we dubbed 'Milwaukee Bill,' because of his long residence in the Wisconsin state penitentiary. He was a German, and upon the slightest provocation he would attack the prisoners with a mess, adding the prisoners to the mess, and the mess to the prisoners, and so on.

He was walking outside of the barracks one day when some one dropped a big block of wood out of an upper window. The fellow meant all right but his aim was so poor the block missed the barracks by a few inches. The old fellow let out a roar, grabbed a gun from one of the guards and began firing wildly at the window. He missed the window but fortunately no one was hit.

"During my two months stay at the camp our meat ration consisted of a horse shank, hung on a spit, and a soup cauldron, and which was lowered into the kettle for ten minutes before the meal."

CLAM FISHERMEN BUSY

Stevens Point Journal—With the river practically cleared of ice, the clam fishermen who reaped a harvest during the past summer are beginning to pick their camping spots and building new or repairing old boats and engines. The industry during the present season than it was last year, owing to the high prices paid for the shells and the ported present shortage of buttons which are made from the shells. During the past summer many thousands of dollars were paid to fishermen within this country. Some have reported the sum to be as high as $50,000.

With this big yield of shells it would seem there should be an excellent opening for a shop to cut buttons or possibly make the completed button.

It has been stated the conservation commission is planning on placing a closed season on clams, the same as fish, frogs, and animals. It is also stated a clamming license will be charged both resident and non-resident fishermen. There has been no bill presented to the legislature up to this time, however.

MAY BUILD CLUB HOUSE

The people of Stevens Point are talking of building a Community Club House in honor of their returning soldiers, and a new city is in the field of new city hall it has been proposed that the two be combined. The council has appointed a committee to investigate the matter and it is now proposed that the new city hall will cost about $100,000. Waukegan is also talking about a new Armory building which would be erected in honor of the boys coming back from war and would serve much the same as a Community Club. Merrill has already erected a Soldiers Club building, meaning that practically every city of this state will have some sort of a memorial in honor of the boys who have fought with the Allied nations.

POLE THROWS LEWIS IN NEW YORK BOUT

The following account of the wrestling match between Strangler El. Lewis, formerly of Nekeosa, and Wladek Zbyszko, is taken from the Chicago Tribune:

"Wladek Zbyszko, the Polish heavyweight wrestler, threatened 'Strangler' Lewis at Madison Square Garden last night after 1:34:27 of gruelling wrestling. Although groggy and dizzy from punishment Zbyszko picked Lewis up with a simple body hold and threw him to the canvass so violently that Strangler lay in a heap exhausted and defeated. Lewis had been the aggressor throughout and was the favorite with the crowd up to the sudden finish.

The two giants came together at 9:14 and Lewis toppled Zbyszko over, but the Pole wiggled out of every attempt Lewis made. They had been at it half an hour when Lewis pitched Zbyszko over violently and caught him in the clutches of a headlock. The Pole's face grew red and his eyes bulged as Lewis applied and the grueling viselike clutch. Suddenly Zbyszko carried his legs and with a mighty kick broke away.

Zbyszko grabbed Lewis' toe and began to twist, Lewis, lying face down on the canvass, writhed in pain and kicked and squirmed until he broke away. He got up limping, for the Pole showed no mercy. Lewis grabbed the Pole's head again under his right arm and began to apply the wracker. Zbyszko managed to throw Lewis to the mat, but the Strangler held on. Zbyszko tore his head free and then jammed Lewis' head under his arm. Lewis kicked frantically until he broke the clutch.

The Strangler next got a half-nelson and arm-lock on Zbyszko and had him close to defeat with both arms locked about the Pole's neck. The Pole got his legs working and kicked himself out of danger. Again Lewis got the Pole in a headlock, and for two minutes Zbyszko's face grew purple. Zbyszko broke the headlock and again grabbed Lewis' toe. He twisted until Lewis howled with pain but the former soldier got free.

Lewis almost had Zbyszko down with a crotch hold, but the Pole kicked Lewis through the rope out of the ring and then came back like a flash and Zbyszko was on the verge of defeat. The two were on their feet and Lewis had the Pole in a head hold. The Poleander in one last desperate effort, lifted him high in the air, and threw him down like a sack of meal. Lewis landed on his back with a resounding crash and a beaten man."

Build a Home

It's funny what a "nut" home ownership makes of a fellow; four-leaved clovers grow more plentifully on his lot than on any other; even the sun shines brighter, the grass is greener, the climate more hospitable; in fact ownership turns an ordinary house and lot into a "microcosmos," a little world different from all others, a world of the homeowner's own making.

DRUGGISTS! VICK'S VAPORUB SHORTAGE OVERCOME AT LAST

The Deal Scheduled for Last November, Which Was Postponed on Account of the Influenza Epidemic, Is Now Re-instated—Good During the Month of March.

OVER ONE MILLION JARS OF VAPORUB PRODUCED EACH WEEK

It is with pride that we announce to the drug trade that the shortage of Vick's Vaporub, which has lasted since last October, is now overcome. Since January 1st, we have been running our laboratory twenty-four and a half hours out of every twenty-four. Last week we shipped the last of our back orders, and retail druggists, therefore, are no longer requested to order in small quantities only.

NOVEMBER DEAL RE-INSTITUTED
This deal, which we had expected to put on last November and which had to be postponed on account of the shortage of Vaporub, is re-instated for the month of March. This allows a discount of 10% on orders from drug stores, wholesalers and retailers, from 1 to 4 gross. 5% of this discount is allowed by the jobber and 5% by us.

We advise the retail druggists to place their orders immediately, so that the jobbers will be able to get prompt shipments to them.

THANKS OF THE PUBLIC DUE THE DRUG TRADE DURING THE INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC.
The thanks of the American public are certainly due the entire drug trade—retail, wholesale and manufacturing—for what they accomplished during the recent influenza epidemic. The war caused a shortage of physicians—nurses were almost impossible to obtain—the demand on the drug trade was unexpected and overwhelming, and to this demand they responded nobly. Retail druggists kept open day and night and sent where they dropped behind the prescription counter. Wholesale druggists called their salesmen out of the road to help fill orders—hundreds wired us to ship Vick's Vaporub by the quickest route, regardless of expense.

Military Term.
One day last summer little Ned had an "experience" with a hornet, and upon seeing another one on the window next day, exclaimed, "O mamma, here is another one of those sharp-shooter flies in the house."

The old man thinks he might run and dive from the spring-board, but he doesn't try it.

Yes, Buffalo, it is far easier to let hair grow long than it is to write poetry.

Ah-ah-ah-oh-oh!
"Is your daughter taking singing lessons?"
"That's what you heard, all right! I hope you don't think for a minute that I had started beating my wife!"—Buffalo Express.

One of the most satisfying assets in life is the ability and power to tell a carping critic just when and where he can get off.

If a man has neither friends nor enemies he has lived in vain.

COOMBS, VETERAN HURLER, WHO HELPED DODGERS WIN FLAG, NOW A REAL MANAGER

Man Who Has Been Chosen to Manage Phillies.

Since Wilbert Robinson assumed the manager's position in 1913, succeeding Bill Dahlen, Brooklyn has had an aggressive and hard ball club to beat, but most of this credit has been given to Jack Coombs, formerly one of the best pitchers in the American league, and reported to be a smart baseball man. The effectiveness of the Dodgers increased as soon as he joined the club and in 1916 it won the pennant of the National league. That year Coombs pitched fine ball and was said to have been instrumental in developing the twirlers on the club. He also is said to have had a hand in improving the skill of the club in team work.

Irreducible to Dodgers.
Some baseball men have even gone so far as to say that Coombs was virtually manager of the club and know it. That is incredible when one knows that Robinson directed the plays on the diamond, looked after the condition of the players and gave them their instructions. There is no denying that Coombs was invaluable to the club.

Opportunity to Show.
Whether Coombs is as smart a baseball man as many believe he is will be revealed in the National league struggle this summer. He has been chosen to manage the Phillies in place of Pat Moran and will have every opportunity to prove he is a baseball man of managerial ability. If he is not successful with the Phillies those who have been giving him credit for the good showing made by the Dodgers in the last few years will probably be willing to admit that Robinson is the man who has been responsible for the climb of the Brooklyn team. Yet if Robinson does not keep the Dodgers up in the race Coombs' friends may call attention to the fact and say he must have had some share in developing the club.

SAIER WILL PLAY SEMIPRO

Former Premier First Baseman of Chicago Cubs, Discharged From Army, Gets Offers.

Victor Saiier, one time premier first baseman with the Chicago Cubs, may play semiprofessional baseball in Jackson in 1918. Saiier, who sustained a broken leg in 1917, and was released by the Cubs is visiting relatives in Jackson.

The Pittsburgh club has obtained Saiier, under the ruling that when one club releases any player any club may obtain him.

Saiier has under consideration offers from the semiprofessional club in Lansing and several from the major leagues. He was discharged from the army January 1.

Vic Saiier.

LIEUT. LEON CADORE KEEN FOR BASEBALL

Pitcher Is Willing to Change Uniform of Khaki.

Brooklyn Hurler Says There Is Nothing Like Warfare to Keep a Player in Condition—Was Wounded During War.

Lieut. Leon Cadore, Company G, 360th infantry one of the best pitchers in the National league, has arrived home from France and said that as soon as Uncle Sam is willing he will change his uniform of khaki for that of the Brooklyn Robins.

"Never felt better in my life. Nothing like warfare to keep a man in trim. Fortunately, the breaks in the war game, such as bursts of lead, did not come my way."

"I was knocked down by two high explosive shells and a hand grenade fell beside me in a trench, but failed to explode. Not wounded once. Hope I'll have luck like that in the plaques next summer."

That was the way Cadore summed up his war experiences as he left for Camp Merritt.

He went to France with a machine gun replacement company in August after training at Camp Hancock. He was commissioned in France and assigned to the 360th regiment, in which were New York negro fighters of the old Fifteenth regiment. They fought in the Champagne sector between two French regiments, and the Germans thought they were Moroccans and were deadly afraid of them, Cadore said.

He did a lot of nice patrol work, taking out ten men at a time and spitting the enemy over.

Cadore's father and Wilbert Robinson, manager of the Robins, club went down the bay on the police boat patrol and waved a welcome to Cadore, who was on the transport Itana.

GIRLS! LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR

A small bottle of "Danderine" makes hair thick, glossy and wavy.

Removes all dandruff, stops itching scalp and falling hair.

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a small bottle of Danderine and use it as you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff and cure for itching scalp, and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this. Adv.

Wild Horses a Problem.

France has courteously but firmly refused to consider the stringing meat of the bony Montana wild range horse. Washington dispatches declare that United States Senator T. J. Walsh of Montana, who took the matter up with the French high commission, was told that France was not in the market for Montana horse meat at any time.

Sale of the range horse for food has long been agitated, as he devours the range. He is worthless as a horse and to round him up, slay and bury him would cost too much money. He is too numerous to kill and let lie, since he might start a plague. Various projects to cure him have been gently scorned by American meat packers, and the solution of the problem, it would seem, is not yet.

WEAK KIDNEYS MEAN A WEAK BODY

When you're fifty, your body begins to break a little. Certain things are more slow and deliberate. "Not so young as I used to be" is a frequent and unwelcome thought. Certain bodily functions upon which good health and good spirits so much depend, are impaired. The weak spot is generally the bladder. Unpleasant symptoms show themselves. Painful and annoying complications in other organs arise. It is practically impossible to check these things. If you only know how, this trouble can be obviated.

For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL Haaren Oil has been relieving the inconvenience and pain due to advancing age. It is a standard, old-time home remedy, and needs no introduction. It is now put up in odorless, tasteless capsules. These are easier and more pleasant to take than the oil in bottles.

Each capsule contains about one dose of five drops. Certain things are more slow and deliberate. "Not so young as I used to be" is a frequent and unwelcome thought. ## CO. FOOD DEMONSTRATOR HELD BARCOCK INSTITUTE

The first of the institutes for farm wives of Wood County, which Miss Mary Carroll, County Food Demonstrator, is putting on in conjunction with the Women's Council of National Defense, was held at Babcock last Thursday afternoon. When twenty-five women turned out to hear Miss Carroll's talks on "Labor Saving Devices for the Country Home" and "The Problems of the Home Dressmaker."

Miss Carroll had prepared some interesting data on the labor saving devices that might be successfully used in a farm home, such as a fireless cooker and other modern appliances. Following the talk the women asked any questions that were answered and discussed. The problems of the home dressmaker brought out many interesting and enlightening discussions and as a whole the gathering was very beneficial.

Next Thursday and Friday Miss Carroll expects to visit Babcock again and will speak on "Invalid Cooking" and other similar subjects. The institutes will be carried out in other towns of the county later, the flu epidemic and bad roads which naturally accompany the annual spring thaw making the meeting in some of the town impracticable as yet.

OPERATING EXPENSE MAY CLOSE THE IRVING SCHOOL

That the excessive expense may close the Irving school, located in the first ward of this city, was revealed at the Annual School meeting at the Lincoln school Monday night when Prof. Doudna asked that the matter be investigated and explained to the public.

According to the statements of Mr. Doudna on this subject it was shown that the entire building is being operated for the benefit of thirty-one pupils. Operating expenses for a school in this city are estimated to be $150, and as the high school only costs about $60 per pupil it is evident that this expense is extremely high. It appears that with the building was erected with the idea going in that direction. However, the calculations were wrong and the result is that there is little demand for a school in that district. No explanation was offered as to where these pupils would be sent but it was thought that they could easily be absorbed among the other schools.

A chart which has been prepared showing the cost of operating the different schools of the city, which was presented at the school meeting, showed that the Howe school was operated at a smaller cost per pupil than any school in this city. Second in line came the Lowell, third the Emerson, fourth the Lincoln, fifth the Irving, and sixth the Irving. According to Mr. Doudna the cost of operating the Irving school per pupil is six times that of operating the Howe.

Frank Leszewski was fined $5 and costs for driving a motor vehicle on a Wednesday morning on a charge of wife beating. The man was arrested the previous evening on complaint of his wife.
